This box includes demographic information about the examinee gathered by the test proctor at the beginning of the test.

If the test proctor took a photo of the examinee, it would also appear here.

Note: This information is all optional. The test proctor may choose to enter some, all, or none of the demographic information. They may also choose whether or not to take a photo.

These are the pre-test instructions describing the main test topic that the examinee received when taking the test.

Pre-test Instructions

The law enforcement agency that asked you to take this test would like to confirm what you have already told investigators during the interview.

You have said that since turning 18 years old, you have not had any sexual contact with anyone under the age of 15.

In this test, the phrase "sexual contact" refers to the rubbing or touching of another person's sexual organs, such as the breasts, buttocks, or genitalia, whether over or under clothing, for the purpose of sexual arousal, sexual gratification, sexual stimulation or sexual "curiosity."

In addition the term "sexual contact" also includes having, allowing, or causing another person to rub or touch your own sexual organs, whether over or under clothing, for purposes of sexual arousal, sexual gratification, sexual "curiosity," or sexual stimulation.

This test will ask you if you have been truthful when you said that, as an adult, you have never had sexual contact with someone under the age of 15.

In this test, "adult" means a person 18 years or older.

Conclusion

This is a brief written conclusion of the test.

John took the "ICAC - Sexual contact with someone under 15, as an adult" EyeDetect test on 9/14/2020 at 9:48 AM and is NOT CREDIBLE because he was deceptive regarding his involvement with Sexual contact with someone under 15 years old, as an adult.

DISCLAIMERS:

It is strongly recommended that all examinees give their prior written consent before undergoing an EyeDetect evaluation. If consent is not given, results may likely not have utility in taking action where it may be needed.

For best results, it is recommended that organizations treat the information found in this report with discretion and confidentiality and on a need-to-know basis among management. For legal reasons, it is recommended that the examinee not be directly confronted regarding a poor credibility score, but that the information found in the EyeDetect report may be useful for taking preventative and/or corrective action to stop illegal and inappropriate behaviors in personnel.

In some jurisdictions, a lie detection test may not be considered legal evidence to incriminate the person tested.

In screening tests, EyeDetect has an accuracy rate of 86-88% in classifying examinees as deceptive or credible and in diagnostic tests, the accuracy rate is 90%. If you believe the test results are incorrect, Converus recommends using a secondary method to assess the credibility of the examinee. Other methods such as a polygraph test, an interview or a drug test where applicable can be used to corroborate the results of the EyeDetect test. Depending on the accuracy rate of the secondary method used, the accuracy rate of combining both tests could be as high as 99%.
